

COPYRIGHT ASSIGNMENT

The American Academy of Orthotists and Prosthetists (AAOP) will be pleased to publish your article ("the Work") tentatively entitled:

in its periodical, the Journal of Prosthetics and Orthotics (JPO) when and if the Work is accepted for publication, pursuant to the following terms:

1. The undersigned author(s) hereby grant(s) and assign(s) to JPO, its successors and assigns all rights in the Work of any kind, including those protected by the copyright laws of the United States or any foreign country.
2. Author warrants that his/her contribution is original; he/she has full power to make this grant; the Work contains no libelous or otherwise unlawful matter; and either that the Work has not been previously published or, if portions have been previously published, permission has been obtained for publication in JPO and he/she will submit copy of the permission release and language for credit lines with his/her manuscript.
3. Author shall have the right to revise, adapt, prepare derivative works, present orally, or distribute the Work, provided that such use is for the personal noncommercial benefit of the Author, is consistent with any prior contractual agreement, if any, between the Author and his/her employer, and lawful notice of copyright is given.
4. Upon acceptance of the article for publication, each author warrants that he/she will promptly remove any prior versions of this work (normally a preprint) that may have been posted to an electronic server.
5. JPO may grant third parties permission to copy all or part of the Work. If such permission is given, JPO may, at its option and as a matter of courtesy, advise the Author of such permission.
6. The Author will receive no royalty or other monetary compensation from the AAOP or the Publisher for the rights transferred by this agreement.

AUTHOR(S) POSTING OF ARTICLES TO AN INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY

Journal of Prosthetics and Orthotics will permit the author(s) to deposit for display a "post-print" (the final manuscript after peer-review and acceptance for publication but prior to the publisher's copyediting, design, formatting, and other services) 12 months after publication of the final article on his/her personal web site, university's institutional repository or employer's intranet, subject to the following:

- You may only deposit the post-print.
- You may not update the post-print text or replace it with a proof or with the final published version.
- You may not include the post-print or any other version of the article in any commercial site or in any repository owned or operated by any third party. For authors of articles based on research funded by NIH, Wellcome Trust, HHMI, or other funding agency, see below for the services that LWW will provide on your behalf to comply with "Public Access Policy" guidelines.
- You may not display the post-print until twelve months after publication of the final article.
- You must attach the following notice to the post-print: "This is a non-final version of an article published in final form in (provide complete journal citation)".
- You shall provide a link in the post-print to the Journal of Prosthetics and Orthotics' website.

"PUBLIC ACCESS POLICY" FUNDING DISCLOSURE

Please disclose below if you have received funding for research on which your article is based from any of the following organizations:

- National Institutes of Health (NIH)

- Wellcome Trust
- Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI)
- Other:

COMPLIANCE WITH NIH AND OTHER RESEARCH FUNDING AGENCY ACCESSIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

A number of research funding agencies now require or request authors to submit the post-print (the article after peer review and acceptance but not the final published article) to a repository that is accessible online by all without charge. Within medical research, three funding agencies in particular have announced such policies:

- The U.S. National Institutes of Health (NIH) requires authors to deposit post-prints based on NIH-funded research in its repository PubMed Central (PMC) within twelve months after publication of the final article in the journal.
- The Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI) requires as a condition of research grants, deposit in PMC, but in its case within six months after publication of the final article.
- The Wellcome Trust requires, as a condition of research grants, deposit in UK PubMed Central within six months after publication of the final article.

As a service to our authors, LWW will identify to National Library of Medicine (NLM) articles that require deposit. This Copyright Transfer Agreement provides the mechanism for identifying such articles. LWW will transmit the post-print of an article based on research funded in whole or in part by one or more of these three agencies to Pub Med Central.

Upon NIH request, it remains the legal responsibility of the author(s) to confirm with NIH the provenance of their manuscript for purposes of deposit.

Author(s) will not deposit their articles themselves.

Author(s) will not alter the post-print already transmitted to NIH.

Author(s) will not authorize the display of the post-print prior to:

- (a) 12 months following publication of the final article, in the case of NIH,
- (b) 6 months following publication of the final article, in the case of Wellcome Trust and HHMI
